

„The environment”, the only car that we need...

The pollution doesn't mean just garbage, nature doesn't suffer just because of forest cuts or defrauding resulting from such cuts. Pollution sometimes can be invisible, but very damaging. Pollution from toxic gases emanating from the car affects the air quality, it influences climate and it produces climate changes.

The main solution for solving this problem is electric cars. Although this technology is not so affordable for people, it is needed, because the effects of the noxes emanating from the engines of cars are already seen in climate changes.
